Cassandra's practice focuses on complex commercial litigation issues in both federal and state court. She has represented clients in a broad range of matters including business torts, employment and contract disputes, non-compete/solicit agreements, products liability actions, shareholder derivative suits, class actions, financial services liability, accountants' liability, intellectual property disputes and responding to third-party subpoenas. Her experience also includes litigation and investigations in the bankruptcy context. In addition to her legal education, she has an MBA with concentrations in Finance and Management, and thus an understanding of financial products, investment strategies and corporate capital structure.

REPRESENTATIVE EXPERIENCE

- Representation of an accounting firm in a multi-district litigation involving alleged tax-sheltered employee benefits plans.
- Representation of a credit card company in a purported class action alleging unfair business practices.
- Representation of an investment bank in a shareholder derivative suit in connection with the provision of a fairness opinion for a merger.
- Defense of a bank in connection with the attempted enforcement of large-sum fraudulent checks.
- Representation of a court-appointed examiner in a bankruptcy fraud case.
- Representation of a hedge fund in connection with discovery sought in bankruptcy adversary proceedings.
