

Public Information

Straight Talk on Public Information Experienced with the framework of the Texas Public Information Act, our lawyers help clients comply with mandatory disclosure issues while also obtaining necessary exemptions when appropriate.

We ably identify and protect proprietary and privileged information. We safeguard our clients from the risks of inappropriate release of information and also help them respond to requests for information.

As an adjunct to our extensive Public Finance work, we are able to guide investors and participants in major public projects to remain in full compliance with the Public Information Act. Andrews Kurth also advises private clients in requests for public information from government entities.
