Tax Straight Talk for Exempt Organizations

Andrews Kurth tax lawyers provide a broad range of services to nonprofit organizations. Over the past three decades of counseling tax-exempt organizations, our representation has included:

- Business leagues
- Charitable hospitals
- Churches
- Private foundations
- Private schools, colleges and universities
- Public charities
- Supporting organizations
- Trade associations

Andrews Kurth has established relationships with agencies and authorities at all levels, including federal, state and local.

We advise and guide exempt organizations through all stages of development and business needs, from formation through tax-related operating issues to dissolution, when necessary. Andrews Kurth tax lawyers have many years of experience filing IRS ruling requests, providing advice regarding ongoing compliance with federal regulations, issuing tax opinions in connection with the issuance of tax-exempt bonds for the benefit of exempt organizations, and representing clients in the context of an IRS audit. When providing our services to exempt organizations, our goal is to gain a full understanding of our client's organization, activities and operating philosophy so that we can support its exempt mission and can assist the organization in meeting its goals.
