

Constitutional Litigation

Straight Talk on Constitutional Challenges

As part of our extensive Public Law counsel, Andrews Kurth lawyers represent government entities and manage their litigation on a range of constitutional matters. These include:

- Voting rights litigation
- Affirmative action challenges
- "Takings" litigation
- Police cases
- Equal protection and civil rights issues
- Official immunity matters

We use firm-wide resources, including support from our deep bench of litigators, to resolve disputes that often attract media attention and involve hotly contested concerns. Our experience is wide ranging and we work for clients before local and state governments and all judicial forums, including in federal and appellate courts.