Andrews Kurth provides this web site for general public resource purposes only. Nothing contained in this web site constitutes legal advice and may not necessarily reflect the opinions of Andrews Kurth lawyers or clients. The materials on this web site also may not reflect the most current legal developments or rules, verdicts or settlements, and they are not guaranteed to be correct, complete or up-to-date. This site and its contents (including the materials) are provided "as is" without warranty of any kind, either expressed or implied, including, but not limited to, an implied warranty of merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose, or non-infringement.

Each instance a past success or result in a matter or a client's statement about the firm or one of its lawyers is referenced on this web site, you should know that each case is different and past performance in a case or matter is no guarantee of a future result in your case or matter.

This Web site is not intended to create an attorney-client relationship between you and the firm, and you should not act or rely on any information on this site without seeking the advice of an attorney.

We would be pleased to communicate with you by e-mail. However, if you communicate with us through this Web site or otherwise in connection with a matter for which we do not already represent you, your communication may not be treated as privileged or confidential. If you communicate with us by e-mail in connection with a matter for which we already represent you, please remember that Internet e-mail is not secure and you should avoid sending sensitive or confidential Internet e-mail messages unless they are adequately encrypted.

In some jurisdictions this site may be considered advertising. The hiring of a lawyer is an important decision that should not be based solely upon written information about our qualifications and experience. Andrews Kurth has endeavored to comply with all known legal and ethical requirements in compiling this site.

There may be articles on this Web site that contain links to other resources on the Internet. Those links are provided as citations and aids to help you identify and locate other Internet resources that may be of interest, and are not intended to state or imply that we sponsor, are affiliated or associated with, or are legally authorized to use any trade name, registered trademark, logo, legal or official seal, or copyrighted symbol that may be reflected in the links.

To the extent the State Bar Rules in your jurisdiction require us to designate a principal office and/or a single attorney responsible for this Web site, we designate our Houston, Texas office as our principal office and Ross Rommel as the attorney responsible for this Web site.

Unless otherwise noted, attorneys are not certified by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization and no lawyer is certified as an "expert" or "specialist" by any authority governing the practice of law in the State of New York.
